MINISTERS ADOPT NEW RESOLUTIONS

Gangster Murder

At a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday members of the ministerial alliance adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That we, the ministers of the evangelical churches of Tulsa, Okla., in regular session, January 3, 1921, express our endorsement of the efforts of the Lord's Day alliance to better preserve one day in seven as a day of rest. Further, we desire to renew our protest against the present practice of closing the Sabbath day. We also desire to protest against the unscripted attacks of the press of our city upon the men working for the preservation of the Sabbath day—especially for which has exercised such a beneficial influence upon all our American institutions. Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be given to the press of our city.

Practically all Protestant pastors of the city were present at the meeting, which was the largest attended since the alliance reconvened last fall. Complete unanimity of opinion in regard to the need of better Sabbath day observance was displayed in brief talks made by all the ministers before the resolution was put to the vote.

Nineteen other prisoners tried to follow him but a lone guard stopped each with a display of his revolver. While the policemen were facing charge of delinquency in performance of duties at Brooklyn headquarters, another blue coat laborer through as long a day as he could remember. Patrolman Kirwin before noon had employed his six shooter twice and arrested single handed, five alleged holdup men.

CARFARE HIKE TO SEVEN CENTS

Construction company seems too close related to the street railway company and that these transactions should be scrutinized more closely.

The street railway company about two years ago purchased six new cars from a concern in St. Louis at a cost of $5,700 each. These cars are to be paid for in five years by monthly installments.

We are going to continue fighting this issue, Duncan asserted Monday night. Not only do we contend that the corporation commission has no power to regulate fares of street railway companies that operate entirely within the city limits, but if the corporation commission insists that it has this power, we insist that the water be taken from the street railway company and the corporation placed at a reasonable figure upon which there should be a reasonable return.

Regret Hike Was Delayed. — "We hope to take this matter up with the commission next Saturday before the permanent order is issued. At the same time we expect to prove that the corporation commission are positively needed and which should be made by the street railway company without further delay."

Magrath said Monday night the only regret of the street railway company was that the increase was not granted sooner.

"We have been worrying along for several months, hoping the hearing would be held earlier," he said. "It has been continued from time to time which has held us back just that much. We want to make improvements in the service—we know improvements can be made, because no street car system was ever perfect. And we want to co-operate with the city in every way possible. I have asked Mr. Duncan to show me a list of the improvements demanded, but so far I have not been able to see it. Consequently, we don't know what is the city demands."

A starved horse cannot pull a heavy load. Which is just another way of saying that we can't go ahead and make a lot of improvements when our treasury is empty. We are still running in the red for the past seven months. How can improvements be made under those circumstances?"

For the present we will have to use cardboard tickets. They will be sold with every conductor and on the one-man cars, with the motorman. It will require at least two weeks to obtain a supply of the needed cardboard coins such as are used in other cities. But soon as they arrive, they will be substituted for the cardboard tickets."

Commissioner Russell said the street railway company will, after the new order has taken effect, be required to furnish the corporation commission with a monthly report showing in detail receipts and disbursements.

This is for the purpose of ascertaining if the improvements specified as demanded by the commission are made. Each month's report is to contain details of the improvement in progress.

The mystery which had enveloped the killing on the morning of December 26, 1920, in United States District Judge John H. Clutter, owing to the broken physical condition of the defendant, no prison term was given to the killer.

McCowan described the killing as taking place after drinking party at the Blue Bird cafe, following the killing of "Monk" Eastman, chairman of the gangster-soldier, which cleared up when Jimmie Bohan, a prohibition enforcement agent, succeeded in getting him to admit shooting the "monk" who had his citizenship status returned after violent war service.

McCowan gave into the courtroom on the arm of an attorney. The case has been pending since 1916, this being the first time he has been able to appear in court.

McCowan was superintendent of the school from 1906 to 1908 during which time he was also special dispensing officer, having indicted four times for feeding false vouchers to the government. His alleged embezzlements dated from 1905 and totaled more than $5,000.

McCowan was held in jail yesterday members of the ministerial alliance adopted the following resolution:

The ministers declared themselves to be in favor of a "blue law" Sunday as said that the exaggerated claims of the Sabbath day observance was less of work and more of worship, less of labor and more of rest." Rev. W. O. Anderson of the First Baptist church newly elected president of the alliance, said:

Officers elected for the year were as follows: Raymond Anderson, president; Rev. W. C. Clark of the West Tulsa Methodist church, vice-president; Miss Edna Pyle, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A.; treasurer; C. E. Buchner, general; V. M. D. Asst. secretary; C. J. Allen, pastor's assistant; Boston Asst. pastor; Mrs. Elizabeth J. Pyle, representative of the American Social Hygiene association, spoke on her work.
